BROWN Keri

Labour

I'm a proud mother of two and Wainuiomata has been home to me and my whānau for the last eight years.

I've helped hundreds of Wainuiomata families during my time as a community worker in the local Labour Party office and know local issues well.

I recently lobbied the Council to create a homelessness strategy and led a number of community initiatives, including the campaign to stop another bottle-store opening in Wainuiomata.

I've been active with the Sun Valley Kindy Committee, St Claudine's Board of Trustees, T-Ball coaching, and the Arakura Breakfast in Schools programme.

After losing my dad and caring for my mum who lives on her own, I know it's important to support the senior community so I recognise the huge difference the planned retirement village will make.

I'll be your voice on the community board and lead the change we need to support our wonderful Wainuiomata Community.

SUE Gary

Independent

My principal residence is within the Wainuiomata Community Board area.

Gary Sue is a loving father and husband, who has lived in Wainuiomata for over 34 years.

He is a former student of Parkway College, where he met and later married his high school sweetheart, Tammie.

Gary and Tammie are currently raising their four gorgeous children in Wainuiomata.

Gary has worked for Greater Wellington Regional Council for over 14 years.

Gary's integrity shows in everything he does and he never loses sight of his purpose; whether he is advocating for better educational outcomes, or encouraging our tamariki and rangatahi to participate in sports.

Gary believes being an active part of the community is very important.

He volunteers most of his free time to local sports clubs and community projects, including E.M.P.O.W.E.R Tama Toa with Wainui male youth.

Gary is always fair, humble and he is a hard worker. He role models leadership through action and reliability.
